NEW TROLLEY MAY NOT COME

Burgess Takes no Action Regarding Ordinance Granting Franchise and Representative of Company Claims Road May be Lost.

Burgess Holtzworth has not yet signed the ordinance granting the local franchise for the proposed trolley line from McSherrystown to this place. A representative of the company stated to a Times representative that this may mean the loss of the trolley for Gettysburg.

Mr. Holtzworth was asked whether or not he had taken any action regarding the matter and replied "I have looked at the ordinance but want to consider it still further. It strikes me that the company should give something for what they are getting, keep the streets over which they run in repair or do something like that."

"When will you decide what you are going to do?"

"I can't tell you."

The trolley representatives are much inconvenienced by the inactivity of the Burgess. The sale of the local road on Wednesday requires them to have everything in shape before next week if they are to be bidders, as certain arrangements must be made before they will be in a position to comply with the conditions of the sale.

A representative of the company stated that the ordinance will have to be signed several days beforehand to be of any use on the day of sale and that the York people controlling the line are very anxious to know what is the status of affairs. He closed by saying "It is probable that the refusal of the Burgess to sign the ordinance will mean that the road will not be built to Gettysburg."

EXPLORERS ARE COMING HOME

Cook Sails Tomorrow; Peary Delayed at Battle Harbor.

COMPARING RIVAL CLAIMS

Record of Peary's Dash to the Pole
Arouses Great Interest—Speed of Two Explorers Show They Traveled Rapidly—Degree Given Dr. Cook.

New York, Sept. 10.—The two explorers upon whom the world's eye has been fixed during the past few days spent the day busily preparing for their advance to the United States. Cook, in Copenhagen, announced that he had definitely arranged to sail Saturday on the Oscar II. for New York city. Peary, according to fragmentary wireless reports, was still delayed at Battle Harbor, Labrador—probably either awaiting the completion of repairs to the Roosevelt or the arrival of coal.

Dr. Cook appeared at a high official function. The University of Copenhagen conferred upon him the degree of SC. D. (doctor of science), thereby recognizing, it was pointed out by his friends, in an important official manner, his claim to the discovery of the pole. Dr. Cook has cancelled his engagement to lecture before the Geographical society of Brussels and will reach New York about Sept. 20 or 21. Captain Ronald Amundsen will probably accompany him.

Dr. Cook's plan to send a ship from Copenhagen to Greenland to bring back to civilization his two Eskimo companions on his exploration trip will not be carried out until next year, as Danish officials have informed him that it is now too late in the season for a trip to Etah. The expedition, it is stated, will be made early next spring. Herbert L. Bridgman, Peary's chief backer, reached Sydney, C. B., and Mrs. Peary, who will also meet the explorer at Sydney, left Portland on her way north. Both expect to greet Commander Peary on Saturday, although the long and thus far unexplained delay at Battle Harbor may make necessary a change in their plans.

Severe Experiences in Far North.
North Sydney, C. B., Sept. 10.—Private messages from Battle Harbor, where Commander Peary still remains, state that the Polar party underwent a number of severe experiences in the far northern journey. On one occasion a party of five men were caught in a furious blizzard and were missing for several days. For a time it was supposed they had perished. Another time one of the expedition lost his life. The Roosevelt is not expected here before Sunday.

ROSS MARVIN DROWNED

Peary's Chief Assistant Met Death.
Leading Expedition.
Elmira, N. Y., Sept. 10.—L. C. Be ment, of Ithaca, a member of the Peary relief expedition of 1901, has received the following message from Commander Peary, dated Battle Harbor:

"Break news of Marvin's death to his mother immediately, before she sees it in the papers. Drowned April 10, forty-five miles north of Cape Columbia, while returning from 86.39 north latitude. Great loss to me and to the expedition. Every member sends deepest sympathy. PEARY."

Through friends in this city the message was conveyed to Ross Marvin's aged mother.
Ross Marvin was born Jan. 28, 1880. He graduated from the high school here, won a scholarship to Cornell university and worked his way through college, standing high in all his studies in the science course.
He was first assistant to Peary and of special value to the expedition on account of his knowledge of sciences and had charge of the supporting party when Peary made his dash to the pole.

COMPARING RIVAL CLAIMS

Peary Travelled as Fast as Cook When He Had Good Conditions.

New York, Sept. 10.—The first opportunity offered to scientists for comparison of the rival claims of Dr. Cook and Commander Peary as to priority in the discovery of the North Pole is furnished by the connected recital of the polar journey of the latter. Peary's story, while plain and convincing, will serve only to add fuel to the bitter controversy now in progress between the partisans of the two explorers. The Cook supporters are even declaring that their champion's story is substantiated by the assertions of his rival.

Comparison of the stories of the two explorers is interesting. According to Dr. Cook, he left Smith's sound Feb. 19, 1908, and claims to have reached the pole April 21, 1908, a period of sixty-one days on the ice. He says he made an average of fourteen miles a day.

Peary started from Cape Sheridan, his winter quarters, on Feb. 15, 1909, and reached the pole April 6, 1909.

On April 2 Peary, according to dispatches from London, crossed the 88th parallel, and two days later crossed the 90th. Then on April 6 he was at the pole. This shows that in the last four days of the dash over clear, solid ice, he covered two degrees of latitude, or more than 135 statute miles, at an average speed of 8 1/4 miles a day.

One of the chief points on which Cook's story has been riddled by the doubters was his statement as to the daily progress of himself and party. He asserts he traveled the 460 miles from Cape Thomas Hubbard to the pole in thirty-four days, and now comes Peary with the statement that he did 400 miles from Cape Columbia to the pole in fifty-one days. Of these fifty-one days fourteen had to be deducted because the commander was held by great stretches of open water. Dr. Cook has made no mention of encountering these "water leads" on his trip, declaring to the scientists that he met only good sledding and comparatively smooth ice.

COOK COMING HOME

Explorer to Sail For New York Tomorrow.

Copenhagen, Sept. 10.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook will sail from Christiansend tomorrow on board the Scandinavian American liner Oscar II. for New York, where she is due about Sept. 20 or 21. He had abandoned his proposed visit to Brussels on the advice of friends.

Dr. Cook asked the officials of the Danish Greenland administration to arrange for the dispatch of one of their boats to Greenland at his expense to get the two Eskimos who accompanied him to the pole. The officials stated that it is now too late in the season for such an attempt and advised him that he must wait for spring, which he will do.

The Copenhagen papers are full of the controversy. Almost all of them support Dr. Cook's claims, but throw no new light on the subject. Captain Amundsen is one of the strongest supporters of the explorer, who is now backed up by Dr. Edward Bay, the zoologist of the expedition under Captain Sverdrup in the Fram in 1898-1902. On that expedition Captain Sverdrup made highly important scientific investigations, and it was over the route mapped by Sverdrup that Cook made his journey northward.

Dr. Bay had a long interview with Dr. Cook at the conclusion of which he said that while at first he had doubted Cook's story, he was now certain of its truth so far as the route claimed to be taken was concerned. Dr. Cook, he said, gave him accurate descriptions of places and things which no other white man except Bay had ever seen.

Dr. Bay asserted that the Danes in Greenland were unfriendly to Commander Peary because they believed he treated the Eskimos badly and forced them to work for him.

DETERMINED TO CAPTURE TRAIN BANDIT

180 Detectives With Bloodhounds Scouring Mountains.

Lewistown, Pa., Sept. 10.—A final determined effort is being made to round up the highwayman who held up and robbed a Pennsylvania railroad express train at Lewistown Narrows on Aug. 31. To this end 180 detectives, picked men from the big cities, led by eight experienced guides, are scouring the mountains. They will cover every foot of ground. The bloodhounds are with the searchers.

It is reported that the robber got away with between $65,000 and $70,000 in currency. Those who credit this story argue that if he only took the paltry $65 the express company says he got, why should the company expend thousands of dollars in attempting to run down a petty thief. It was claimed at the time of the holdup that about fifty rifled express envelopes were found on the floor of the looted car.

Train Kills Track Walker.
Altoona, Pa., Sept. 10.—William Ryan, of Mehafter, Clearfield county, a machinist, who was taken from a freight train near Lewistown five days ago and arrested on suspicion of being the man who held up and robbed the Pennsylvania railroad express train, and who was detained at Tyrone until Wednesday night, was run over by a train in this city while walking on the tracks and fatally injured.

Sutton, Jr., of the Marine Corps, whose death was the subject of official inquiry recently, will be removed from its resting place in Arlington cemetery next Monday and an autopsy will be made, and then it will be reinterred in consecrated ground.

No Death Chair; Murderer Reprieved.

JOHNSON PLAYED WITH KAUFMAN

White Man Outclassed by Colored Champion.

San Francisco, Sept. 10.—In a contest unique in local prize fight annals, Jack Johnson was accredited with a "newspaper" decision over Al Kaufman at the end of ten rounds at Cofroth's arena.

According to agreement, if both men were on their feet when ten rounds had been fought no decision was to be given. Referee Eddie Smith, however, stated Johnson was entitled to the verdict.

Johnson employed tantalizing lefts and forceful right uppercuts with such frequency that Kaufman was fairly bewildered. Early in the contest his face began to show signs of Johnson's stinging punches, and in the third round a well directed blow started the blood flowing from Kaufman's face.

Johnson appeared to be holding himself in reserve, and it took constant jabbing by the spectators and an occasional punch from the blacksmith to start him going. When he did let go he played with Kaufman as if the latter were a child.

In the ninth round Kaufman found Johnson's stomach with a vicious right swing. It was Kaufman's best blow, and it made the negro more careful.

BORN IN THEATRE

Little Girl Arrives When Mother Is at Show.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Near the close of the third act at the Studebaker theater, three women withdrew from the right proscenium box and, hurrying to the theater parlor, summoned a maid and Dr. J. B. Watson. A short time later one of the women, carrying the girl baby which had just arrived, entered an automobile at the theater entrance, followed by another of the three, while the other was assisted out to the machine.

The chauffeur was then directed to drive to an address on the North Side. The identity of the mother and of her friends was not revealed.

Sought Death by Eating Matches.
Shamokin, Pa., Sept. 10.—Too poor to buy a revolver and unable to find rope, John Popla, who decided upon death because his wife scolded him, ate a box of sulphur matches and was in terrible agony when a doctor arrived. After a hard fight the physician saved Popla's life.

Tomato Cannery Burned Out.

Cures Baby's Summer Ills—FREE

The mother should watch her baby very carefully these hot days. If it refuses to play and to eat, if it is peevish and crying, look to the action of its bowels, for there lies the basis of health. Be careful of its diet. The food and water are germ laden. The fruit is too often over-ripe or unripe. If it has any indication of sickness, either in the form of constipation or diarrhea, give it a reliable tonic laxative like DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN. This remedy is a standard in thousands of American homes for just such purposes. It is a favorite with children because its taste is pleasant, and it never gripes. It is the one remedy best suited to the cure of constipation, indigestion, liver trouble, biliousness, sick headache, summer complaint, etc. It is equally as good for grown people, and we know thousands who no longer use strong salts, purgative waters, tablets, pills and such things, but take the surer, more gentle and pleasanter DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN. It can be obtained at any druggist at 50 cents or $1 a large bottle. The entire family can use it, and as these ailments arise suddenly the head of the house should see to it that a bottle of DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN is always at hand.

Those who have never yet used DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN and would like to make a test of it before buying in the regular way of their druggist, can obtain a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE either for themselves or any member of their family by sending name and address to the doctor. The sample will be sent to your home free of charge. In this way you can find out what it will do without cost. Also, if the case presents difficulties that doctors and other remedies seem unable to overcome, write a letter to Dr. Caldwell explaining how the person suffers and he will come, visit and bowl diseases, without charge. Women who have children should send for "SUGGESTIONS TO MOTHERS," containing the doctor's advice on diet, hygiene, etc., in hot weather—a very important subject. The address is: Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 521 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill.

E. H. HARRIMAN SINKS TO DEATH

Railroad King Succumbs After Brave Struggle.

FAMILY WERE AT BEDSIDE

Death Came Peacefully and His Mind Retained Its Integrity Almost to the End—Funeral Services to Be Held Sunday Afternoon—Estimates of His Fortune Vary From $50,000,000 to $100,000,000.

Arden, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Edward H. Harriman, the greatest organizer of railroads the world has ever known, met the only lasting defeat of his active life at the hands of death. Secluded in his magnificent home on Tower Hill, surrounded by members of his family, physicians and nurses, he succumbed to an intestinal disorder after a fight against disease which will rank for sheer grit with his remarkable struggles in the financial world. He was sixty-one years of age.

Mr. Harriman died peacefully, and almost to the end his brilliant mind retained its integrity. After a relapse on Sunday he sank steadily, and on Thursday there came a relapse which marked the approach of the end. His wife, his two daughters, the Misses Mary and Carol, and his sons, Walter and Roland, who have been constantly with him, assembled at the bedside, and a carriage was hastily dispatched for Mrs. Simons, whose home is here in Arden, three miles from the Tower Hill mansion.

Family at Bedside.

Driving hurriedly up the mountain side, Mrs. Simons entered the great silent house in time to be present at her brother's death. She joined the wife and children, who, with Dr. W. G. Lyle, of New York, and Orlando Harriman, a brother, and the nurses, formed a group at the bedside.

No spiritual adviser was at hand. The swiftest automobile in the Harriman garage had been dispatched for Rev. Dr. J. Holmes McGuinness, an Episcopalian rector of Arden parish, and Mr. Harriman's personal chaplain, but he did not arrive until death had come to Arden house.

Dr. Lyle, who has been Mr. Harriman's physician throughout this last illness, has issued no statement concerning his illness or the cause of death, but the general understanding is that there was no operation.

With the secrecy that has been maintained at the Harriman residence unbroken to the very end, news of Mr. Harriman's death was conveyed to New York before it came to Arden and the valley below. Then by way of New York the report that death had arrived at the great estate on Tower Hill spread quickly, and confirmation was sought at the residence by telephone. During the past ten days rumors have been so persistent and variable that little credence was at first given the report, and it was a shock when a voice on the hill replied: "Yes, that is correct. Mr. Harriman died at 3:35 p. m." The speaker was evidently an employee.

Workmen Told of Death.

Soon afterward the hundreds of workmen engaged on the uncompleted estate learned of their master's death when a page came out on the lawn and announced simply: "You may all quit work. Mr. Harriman is dead." A hush fell over the group, and the workmen, dropping their tools, trudged silently to the flat cars and descended on the private incline railway that bore them from the mountain top to their homes below.

While the policy of reticence that prevailed during Mr. Harriman's illness was maintained by most of his relatives and associates after his death, Orlando Harriman, whose home is in New York, discussed the funeral arrangements briefly. He said that Mr. Harriman would be buried in the family plot in the little graveyard behind St. John's Episcopal church at Arden. He will rest beside his eldest son, Edward H. Harriman, Jr., who died twenty-two years ago, soon after the family first came to Arden. The service will be held at 3:30 on Sunday afternoon and, it is understood, will be strictly private.

Harriman's Fortune.

Recent estimates of Mr. Harriman's personal wealth have varied all the way from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000. He was, of course, a large holder of securities of the various corporations with which he was identified, including in addition to the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific systems, over a score of smaller or tributary properties, not only in this country but in Mexico as well. Report credited him with large personal holdings in the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe road, Baltimore & Ohio, Delaware & Hudson, Erie, Illinois Central, New York Central and the Pacific Mail Steamship company. His holdings of Brooklyn Rapid Transit stock and bonds were very large a few years ago, and these have probably been increased in late years. He was reported to have been the largest individual stockholder in the Wells Fargo Express company, which only recently acquired a virtual monopoly of the express business in Mexico.

Summarized, his railroad possessions were:

Absolutely Controlled.
Roads.	Mileage.
Union Pacific.....	5916
Southern Pacific.....	9731
Illinois Central.....	4378
Georgia Central.....	1814
Partly Controlled.
Erie.....	2333
Baltimore & Ohio.....	4462
Atchison.....	9731
St. Paul.....	7187
New York Central.....	12,283
Northwestern.....	7623
Grand total.....	85,178

Mr. Harriman's real estate holdings in this city were comparatively small. His home at Arden is said to represent an outlay of over $2,000,000.

MURDERER'S PLOT TO KILL GUARDS FAILS

Planned With ex-Prisoner and Girl to Break Jail.

Allentown, Pa., Sept. 10.—George L. Schaeffer, who was sentenced by Judge Trexler last Tuesday to be hanged for the murder of the Philadelphia jewelry salesman on his (Schaeffer's) farm last November, was foiled by Warden H. J. Wieand in an elaborate plan to murder the jail officials and escape. Intercepting letters that Schaeffer was trying to smuggle out of jail, the warden learned of his plans and saved his life.

Schaeffer concocted the plan with Clayton O. Fenstermacher, a former cellmate, and Ruth Gardner, who was a servant in the warden's apartments, and who had access to Schaeffer's cell. These two, with a third person, whose name is as yet unknown, were to come to the jail late on the night of Aug. 28 with an automobile. The warden was to be called to the door, and bagged and robbed of his keys, whereupon they were to unlock Schaeffer's cell door and let him escape in the automobile. The girl was to pass a vial of drugs in a hole to Schaeffer's cell window for use by him in chloroforming his guard.

Warden Wieand and six other prison officials lay in wait all night for the party, but they failed to show up, due, it has since been learned, by the failure of the unknown man to keep his appointment. Since then Schaeffer has been especially well guarded.

Ruth Gardner and Clayton O. Fenstermacher were arrested and committed to jail.

TO STRENGTHEN THE DEMOCRACY

"Democratic League" Outgrowth of Saratoga Conference.

THE MOVEMENT OUTLINED

The League is Expected to Bring Back Into the Democratic Party Those Who Left Its Ranks and to Attract Independent Voters.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Out of the Democratic conference under the guiding hands of men who hold a prominent place in the party's history there promises to grow a permanent organization to be known as the Democratic League.

At the close of a day of Democratic oratory, during which speeches were made by Alton B. Parker, Thomas M. Osborne and Edward M. Shepard, outlining the purposes and hopes of the conference, John N. Carlisle, of Watertown, offered the following resolution:

"That for the purpose of aiding and strengthening the Democratic party, bringing back to its ranks those who have been separated from it, and attracting to it the independent and the young voters of the state; offering a place of refuge for those Republicans who feel that their trust in their party has been betrayed and its solemn pledges and promises to them broken, who deprecate its wastefulness and extravagance in administering the affairs of government, and look with apprehension upon the steady strides it is making towards the centralization of government at the expense of the legitimate powers of the states and of the rights reserved to the people; and for the purposes of disseminating the principles of the Democratic party—the efforts of this conference should be continued, and for that purpose its organization be made permanent. Therefore, be it Resolved, That the members of this conference, and those who may hereafter become such, be and they hereby are constituted a permanent organization, under the name of 'The Democratic League;' and that the present executive committee be continued in office until otherwise ordered by the general committee hereinafter provided for."

It is also provided that the executive committee shall call a meeting of the general committee on or before Feb. 1, 1910.

The resolution was referred to the "committee on plan and scope," composed of a representative from each of the senatorial districts of the state. This committee is also charged with the formulation of a declaration of party principles to be presented for consideration.

Is Your Shovel Worn Out?

The price of a new shovel is a small matter. But are you going on forever shoveling into a furnace twice as much coal as is really needed to heat your house—and then shoveling out twice as many ashes? Ashes are expensive, because coal is expensive. You can't afford to let one shovelful of coal get away without getting its full content of heat out of it, and into the air of your house. You can do this easily, safely and surely with the

MODEL Heating System

It thoroughly consumes every pound of coal, leaving nothing but fine white ashes. By a scientific plan of circulation, it gets the heat from the fire and distributes it, through steam or hot water radiators, with remarkable efficiency. As a result it will keep the whole house comfortable day and night, in all weather, and save one-third to one-half of the coal ordinarily consumed. It is doing this now in thousands of homes. Look into it at once.

THE Ledom Range

The Ledom is as good a kitchen range as the Model is a heating system—which is saying a great deal. Its grate alone saves half of the usual coal consumption, and makes it the ablest, quickest, most convenient range ever built. Don't fail to see it.

THE LATE EDWARD HENRY HARRIMAN

Wizard of Railroads Whose Conceptions Were as Wide as the Continent, Whose Plans Comprehended Millions and Who Organized Systems. :: ::

By JAMES A. EDGERTON.

THERE have been few single figures in the world of finance the mere rumors of whose illness would radically affect so many stocks as did that of the late Edward Henry Harriman. On his recent return from Europe the great Stock Exchange in Wall street spent nearly one whole day in suspense. Buying and selling were at a standstill. Everything depended upon the health of the little man coming up the bay. If he should prove to be on the road to recovery, up would go Union Pacific, Central Pacific, New York Central and other securities under his control. If he was seen to be in a bad way, they would tumble. Until one or the other was definitely known there was nothing doing.

His arrival satisfied the brokers that the railroad king was far from a well man. After his retreat to Arden the rumor was noised about that he intended virtually to retire. On this mere breath his stocks were hammered down, down till Union Pacific fell off 6 or 7 points, Southern Pacific, New York Central and others sharing in the decline. It was a striking tribute to the man's power, a testimonial to the estimate put upon his financial mastery by Wall street. There was no sentiment in it. There never is in these bull and bear raids. They are as utterly merciless as an earthquake or a cyclone. There is not a heart beat in the whole high finance body, however many there may be in the individuals who compose it. And when the bears pounded down those Harriman securities in the days when their master lay ill at Arden they merely advertised that they had been afraid of the man and showed what they would do when the fear was even a little abated.

Great Constructive Genius.

The best two things about Mr. Harriman were that he was constructive and had a national view of things. He was not alone a stock manipulator, but a builder. History must give him this credit. It is questionable if we have had any greater railroad builders than he. The manner in which he took the rundown and bankrupt Union Pacific, went over the ground and saw the business there was for the line, coupled with the subsequent courage and energy he displayed in pouring hundreds of millions into straightening and improving the road, showed a constructive genius of the first order. Ruthless he might have been, yet the fact that he did things, and big things at that, must be told to his praise. The story of bridging Great Salt Lake and draining the Salton sea is not one that could be told of every man, not even of every railroad king. He touched most of the properties that came under his control only to build them up. Overcapitalized he probably did, although he called it capitalizing the future. Used Wall street methods, some of them of a doubtful kind—with this his enemies charged him. And Harriman had enemies, bitter and big ones, with Theodore Roosevelt, ex-president of the United States, at their head. It is perfectly true that in the world of men he had more foes that hated him than friends that loved him. Yet when this is said we cannot forget those east side boys in New York not those shouting children at Arden. A man that loves a child and is loved by it in return cannot be all bad.

Harriman's national vision was shown in manifold ways. Though born near New York city and living in or about it all his life, he did not have the New York viewpoint. He saw America from the angle of the Pacific coast and of the central west, as well as of the east. He had enough imagination to forecast the future of the country, to count on it as a most important factor in all his business enterprises. He could see the desirability of buying steamship lines across the Pacific, of planning a railroad in Mexico. Few men realized the possibilities of the great empire building on the shores of the Pacific ocean with more clearness than Harriman. Though small in body and even in brain, he was not small in his grasp of things. He thought in terms of the continent, planned in millions, built with systems.

His Greatest Monument.

Harriman has often been compared to Jay Gould. In my own opinion, he was a bigger man than Gould and a better one. With all the abuse that has been heaped upon him he is entitled to that which his own deeds carved out. He was not as shrewd a man on the Stock Exchange as Gould, not as "foxy" perhaps, if you like the term, but he had infinitely bigger ideals and more audacity to plan and execute great undertakings. Gould was essentially a financier. Harriman was that and more, and it is the "more" that will redeem him. The romance of the Pacific railroads and steamship lines and of his other great railroad deals cannot be wiped off the slate. Whatever we may think of Harriman in Wall street or Harriman in politics or Harriman in insurance or Harriman in Chicago and Alton, his work on the Pacific empire, both this side and on the seas, will fire the imagination and compel respect. Good and evil mingle in all men. This is the good of Harriman. It is his greatest monument.

Constructive Genius of the First Order, Who Was a Director and President of Many Corporations, Controlled Whatever He Touched. :: :: :: ::

It was recently stated that Harriman controlled 18,000 miles of railway, or six times across the continent; that these lines employ 80,000 men; that, in addition, he directed 54,000 miles of steamship lines, making 72,000 miles of transportation in all; that one could go from New York to Hongkong without ever leaving the Harriman lines and that he could return by another route on Harriman lines nearly all the way.

To show something of the man's great activities, the mere corporations of which he was the head or with which he was officially connected may give a hint, although little more than a hint. He had been a member of the New York Stock Exchange since 1870. He was president of the Oregon Railroad and Navigation company, president of the Oregon Short Line, president of the Southern Pacific, president of the Texas and New Orleans Railroad company, president of the Southern Pacific Coast railway, president of the Oregon and California Railroad company, president of the Central Pacific Railroad company, president of the Louisiana and Western Railroad company, president of Morgan's Louisiana and Texas Railroad and Steamship company, president of the Pacific Mail Steamship company, president of the Railroad Securities company, president of the Southern Pacific Terminal company, president of the Portland and Asiatic Steamship company, president of the Union Pacific, chairman of the executive committee of the Wells Fargo company, director of the Illinois Central Railroad company, director of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company, director of the Erie Railroad company, director of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, director of the Western Union Telegraph company, director of the National City Bank of New York, director of the Chicago and Alton Railroad company, director of the Pere Marquette Railroad company, director of the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad company, director of the Susquehanna and Western Railroad company, director of the New York Central Railroad company and many more, to say nothing of the Equitable Assurance society, of which he was once a director, but from which he resigned during the Hughes investigation.

Controlled Whatever He Touched. After reading all that list one can wonder not only that he died so soon, but that he lived so long, for he understood that Edward H. Harriman was no mere perfunctory director. Whatever he touched he controlled—either that or something broke. He was not a dummy. Nor could he have controlled all these properties, only a fraction of which he could have owned personally, unless his business associates reposed the greatest confidence in his integrity and ability. It was his power of organization, of construction, his intimate knowledge of the whole country as it related to railroad-ing, his daring methods and his success that won him their allegiance. He became far and away the greatest railroad power of his day and perhaps of any day that the country has yet known. There may be railroad kings in future that will control more mileage, but none up to his own time.

His latest dream of making the New York Central a part of his gigantic system was coming to fruition only when death snatched him away from it. Even as it was, the greatest of our railroads was listed as a Harriman property, and its stocks moved in sympathy with his group. To combine that old and rich system with the Pacific roads into one gigantic whole was the work of a financial titan. It was not a thing that a small man would even have dared to plan.

Get rid of all hair or scalp troubles by using Parisian Sage, the remedy that never fails to kill the germs.

For sale by leading druggists for 50 cents a large bottle and in Gettysburg by The People's Drug Store, who guarantees it to stop itching scalp, falling hair, splitting hair and dandruff or money back.

Parisian Sage is the favorite with discriminating women, for it will make the hair grow luxuriant and beautiful. It is not sticky or greasy but it is a most delightful hair dressing.

"I am a good and true friend of Parisian Sage. It appealed to my scalp trouble at once while I was using the first bottle. I also suffered with an itchy scalp of the scalp which caused large sores to form. The use of Parisian Sage took away all the trouble, healed and removed the sores, made my head feel cool, and caused the hair to grow in nicely." J. W. Moody, 1909 Bainbridge St., Manchester, Va. April 2, 1909.

She Thinks It a Miracle

People are Going Many Miles to See

So much talk is created by the Root Juice scientist and his new discovery that scores of people are going many miles to Ft. Wayne, Ind., from every direction to see and learn all they can about the new remedy that seems to in a short while cure the very worst forms of rheumatism, stomach and kidney troubles and nervous weakness. Mrs. E. G. Moore said:

"I had just seven doctors treating me at different times for chronic stomach troubles and female weakness. I was reduced to skin and bones, and was so weak I couldn't feed myself when I commenced to take the wonderful juice. After taking it a few days I was recovering flesh and strength with such rapidity I felt a miracle was being performed. A few bottles of the remedy completely cured me after all the doctors failed to do me any good; but I am not the only one, as many of my neighbors have been cured by the great medicine. It is truly a wonderful medicine. It seems to heal and invigorate every organ of the body."

An Up-To-Date Druggist

says it is surprising how many old fashioned remedies are being used, which goes to show that it is hard to improve some of our grandmothers' old, time-tried remedies. For instance, for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy, nothing equaling our grandmothers' "sage tea" has ever been discovered. Although, by the addition of sulphur and other ingredients, this old-fashioned brew has been made more effective as a scalp tonic and color restorer. Nowadays when our hair comes out or gets faded or gray, instead of going to the garden or garret for herbs and making the tea ourselves, we simply go to the nearest drug store and ask for a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. This preparation is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlands St., New York City, upon receipt of price. For sale and recommended by People Drug Store.

There are many popular misconceptions concerning Harriman. One is that he was a man with an abnormally large brain, which sapped the life from his undersized body. Harriman's head was not large. It was under rather than over the normal size. It was quite well proportioned to his small stature. His body gave the impression of slightness, it is true, but it was not emaciated, except in his last illness. It was wiry and quick as a steel spring. He was stooped, as are most men who think much. He was never a careful dresser and was quite commonplace in appearance. But the idea that his brain ate up his body is a mere flight of fancy. It might be said as truly of any man who is at the head of big things in this day of gigantic undertakings.

Smartest Boy of His Class.

Another mistaken notion is that Mr. Harriman was born in New Jersey. He was born at Hempstead, Long Island, in the state of New York, Feb. 25, 1848. He was the fourth child of a poor Episcopalian minister whose salary sometimes amounted to as much as $200 a year. It was after the future railroad king's advent that the family moved to Jersey, settling in a modest portion of Jersey City just off the Hackensack meadows. It was not a promising environment, but there were rich relations on both sides of the house. The lad went to Trinity school in New York, walking three miles each way. He had a reputation, which still survives, of having been the worst boy and the smartest of his class. At the age of fourteen he quit school altogether and entered a broker's office. The first year he earned the magnificent salary of $5 a week, and even this pittance he turned over to his father.

Friend of Children.

Perhaps the only beings with whom Edward H. Harriman the man ever entirely unbent were children. In New York he was the head of a great boys' institution, a sort of combined gymnasium, club and debating society, for more than a quarter of a century. At Arden he was never so happy as when he had an automobile load of little ones and was spinning about the countryside. To them he was not the cold business machine known to the world. He was "Pop" Harriman, their comrade and friend. Perhaps he was so unreserved with the children because they did not ask him leading questions and try to take away his money. In the country he was as God made him. In business he was as Wall street made him. There is a difference here, one that will appear greater the more it is contemplated.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.
